Why VOF

VOF's strategy takes advantage of market inefficiencies by investing in public and private equity.

1

50% of VOF is invested in a high conviction portfolio of c.20 quoted investments, unconstrained by index weightings.

2

Strong record in private equity and privatisations

USD487m in gross returns, achieving over 23% IRR and 1.8x multiple on fully realised investments.

3

Ability to invest in SOE privatisations on a selective basis.

4

Legacy real estate portfolio is being reduced, with several large exits currently underway.

Performance is driven by our conviction to large public equity holdings, private equity investments, and OTC investments (pre-IPO and privatisations).

VOF holds a diversified listed equity portfolio

Listed equity investment by sector

Active management of investments

- VOF takes board seats and appoint professional managers at investee companies where appropriate

Accounting for structural factors

- Investments must account for foreign ownership limits, lack of scale, low liquidity, sector regulations and large state ownership

Deal structures

- Invest through direct market participation or through PIPE negotiated with company management
- Use alternative structures such as preferred share structures and convertible instruments when seeking to protect downside risk, and maximise returns

Exit premiums

- Scale allows VOF to extract market premiums when seeking to exit

VOF is rebalancing its private equity portfolio towards consumer companies and indirect real estate.

Targets

- Investments of between USD10m and USD40m with minimum revenue of USD5m
- SOE privatisations: VOF has shortlisted 36 of 300 SOEs expected to be sold in 2016
- Management buyouts of listed companies (public to private transactions)
- Private placements into public companies or PIPEs issuing new shares

Sector focus

- Focus on consumer lead businesses, namely sectors that will contribute most to economic growth in the foreseeable future

Deal structure

- Where possible, VOF will protect its downside risks using performance commitment, information rights, drag-along, tag-along and veto rights

Fully realised private equity investments<sup>1</sup> have delivered USD487m in gross returns, achieving over 23% IRR and 1.82x multiple.

1. Includes Private Equity (PE), PIPE and SOE Privatisation investments with equity invested of USD3million or more and ownership at acquisition of 5% or more as of 31 December 2015, PE: Privately negotiated investment made into a privately-held or non-listed company, usually accompanied by special rights, terms and/or minority protections, SOE Privatisation: Investments made into state-owned enterprises (SOEs) during the process of privatisation, PIPE: Privately negotiated investment made into a public-held or listed company
2. Weighted average gross returns based on total equity invested. Net returns are unavailable because the private equity investments is part of a multi-asset strategy portfolio from a fund called VinaCapital Vietnam Opportunity Fund (VOF). The expenses for VOF are not broken down by asset class.
3. Partially Realised includes deals in which above 10% to 90% of the holding has been realised. Unrealised deals are deals in which less than 10% of the holding has been realised.

VinaCapital plays an active role in investee companies, providing ongoing support in a number of areas

A top five dairy products producer in Vietnam with the second largest market share in the north, IDP is expanding its production further into the southern market in 2016

Transaction summary

- Dec 2014, VOF invested USD35m alongside Daiwa PI Partners to acquire a 70% ownership stake; VOF sourced Daiwa as a co-investment partner
- Acquired at a price to sales ratio of 0.5x, which compared favorably with market leaders such as Vinamilk, which typically trades at 3.0x sales
- Provided a smart deal structure in which the founders returned significant cash to the company, helping to balance cashflows immediately after acquisition

Return drivers & investment rationale

- Vietnam's dairy sector offers a unique investment opportunity given rising domestic consumption
- In 2016 IDP's revenue is expected to reach USD117m with 37% growth compared to 2015
- IDP is among the top three companies in yogurt market share in Vietnam, a segment that grew 8.7% in sales volume from 2014 – 15

Value creation

- Put in place a senior leader to re-organise personnel structure, which quickly improved operational efficiency
- Coached management to foster growth while maintaining an optimum administrative cost structure
- Brought in business partners for product collaboration
- Helped align business strategy to optimise growth

Novaland is a leading private residential real estate developer in Vietnam with an established reputation as a developer focusing on well-located, mid-scale projects with a large land bank and the ability to execute

Transaction summary

- NVLG sought to obtain capital to expand and leverage its strong position in Ho Chi Minh City
- VOF invested USD15m into a convertible preferred stake in NVLG with a 5% running yield, 15% minimum IRR and significantly discounted convertible options
- Income and capital growth with significant downside protections to investor

Return drivers & investment rationale

- NVLG is currently valued at USD753.4m, with a total of 5,900 sold and pre-sold units
- NVLG is developing 37 projects with over 20k apartments selling at prices ranging from USD100k to USD250k per unit
- NVLG has a large land bank of 23ha in Ho Chi Minh City, and sold more than 11,000 units from 2013 – 2015, and 20% of all residential units sold in 2015<sup>1</sup>

Value creation

- Helped connect NVLG with VinaCapital partners for business collaboration
- Provided NVLG with land bank opportunities for future project development
- Consulted with the company on funding strategy
